I SNACK REGULARLY.

KEEP YOUR BLOOD SUGAR IN CHECK

5 tips from a professional baker (and snacker)

1 No snacking between meals

2 Late breakfast

3 Keep it moving

4 Mask your sugar

5 Fiber + protein

WASSEM BAKES

1

DON'T SNACK BETWEEN MEALS

Just breakfast, lunch and dinner.

> Snacking raises your area under the curve (AUC) and your average glucose.

> Having dessert? Eat it right after your meal.

WASSEM BAKES

2

EAT BREAKFAST LATE

Around 10 or 10:30am.

> And don't eat too late before bed.

WASSEM BAKES

3

SUGAR HIGH?
GET MOVING

Take a light walk or do yoga.

> Yoga works really well for me.

WASSEM BAKES

4

MY BEST TIP

MASK YOUR SUGAR

Two bites of yogurt right before carbs or sweets. The fat blunts the spike.

> Apple cider vinegar works too, but it's too hard. Not for me.

WASSEM BAKES

5

FIBER + PROTEIN FIRST

Eat them before anything sweet or high carb.

WASSEM BAKES

EVERYBODY'S DIFFERENT

Not rules. Not medical advice. Just what I learned from 14 days on a glucose monitor.

I thought I was healthy. My snacking was spiking me.

Try a CGM and see how your body reacts.

WASSEM BAKES